

LET'S KEEP LEARNING!

On a computer, tablet, or mobile device with a connection to the internet, students have access to a full library of fiction and nonfiction eBooks at home. Independent reading is a wonderful way to assure students remain engaged in learning. We are committed to supporting parents as they encourage students to read on epointplus.

Steps to Reading on epointplus at Home

1

Username and Password To log in, the student will need their Username and Password. They will navigate to this website to access their epointplus library: <http://www.epointplus.com/login>

2

Using the Site To learn more details about using and navigating within the epointplus collection, we have provided Site Help. If you would like more information, follow this link: <http://www.epointplus.com/help>

3

Share the Love of Reading Encourage literacy activities while students are outside of school—reading to you, siblings, or other friends and family; researching topics of interest from their personalized eBook library; learning content area concepts and vocabulary by reading books about science, social studies, art, mathematics, and more!
